INTERNATIONAL WOMAN'S DAY THE EIGHTH

MARCH 1978

PROGRAM NOTES

In addition to the International Women's Day programming co-ordinated by Chris Miner, KRAB will air a number of informative and entertaining programs in March, including a new Friday evening series called "Radio Activity" produced by Live Without Trident and examining issues from energy to economics to the impact of the military on the region. On Tues., Mar. 28, a talk by Nancy Ramsey on the Transfer Amendment, a bill being introduced to Congress which provides for the gradual shifting of military funds toward domestic programs, will be aired. Environmentalist David Morris, an advocate of local control of local resources, gave a fascinating talk on the repercussions of "appropriate technology", which will be aired Fri. Mar. 24. Gray Panthers activist Maggie Kuhn's recent speech in Tacoma will be aired Fri., Mar. 3. WashPIRG continues with reports on the aluminum industry and the returnable bottle bill. A program called "Herbicides in Lake Washington?" discusses the proposed massive dispersal of 2,4,D in the lake to eradicate an annoying weed. Also, Steve Hodes' "Energy News" will alternate with "Environmental News" at 8pm on Wednesdays beginning this month. A forum on the proposed Bell rate hike will be broadcast Tues. Mar. 21, at 3pm. That evening two programs dealing with Chile occur, beginning with "The Struggle Goes On", in which members of the Seattle Chilean exile community relate their personal perspectives on Chile's struggle for self-determination. Following that, Sergio Urrutia, Chilean folk-singer performs on Tuesday Night Live.

Other music specials include the Don Cherry/Colin Walcott concert recently recorded at Evergreen State College; the Cajun music of the Balfa Brothers recorded at Fiddlers' Roundhouse in Feb.; a live performance by Gwenzai, an mbira group of four women playing traditional shona music. Charlie Sharpe and Margo Murphy and Stuart Williams will leave the confines of their own programs to whoop it up on Tuesday Night Live. There is also an adaptation of Constance DeJong's novel Modern Love, Fri. March 17, with music by Philip Glass. Richard Wallace has written and produced a play for the young called Children of Worthing which will be aired Sat., March 18 at 4:30 pm. For a program called "Philosophy in the Street", Francisco Siqueiros took a tape recorder to bus stops, taverns and the Market to discover an ontology of The People. Also, a new comedy series called "The HP Show" produced at Co-Op Radio in Vancouver will provide new Friday night zaniness. There's much more. Browse, and listen.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

March 8 is International Women's Day. On this day, KRAB pre-empts the regular programming and reserves this time for the celebration of women, by women. All of this day will focus on women's achievements, goals, and how they go about attaining these accomplishments. Throughout the day there will be announcements of events that are taking place throughout the city in celebration, as well as explanations of what KRAB is doing. Segments of soap opera, music, poetry, and readings will fill out the day between scheduled programming. The day will be informative as well as entertaining.

Womenspeak and Fringe Benefit will be celebrating International Women's Day on Monday, March 6, and Saturday, March 11, respectively. On Friday, March 10, at 8 pm, there will be eleven Olivia artists sharing a part of themselves. (Olivia is a feminist music collective which produces and distributes its own recordings.) Also, listen for WE: Women Everywhere and Surviving in the Patriarchy over the weekend for additional women's programming.

I'd like to thank all of the women who originated International Women's Day, and thank all of the women of KRAB who have perpetuated this day to be used for women, for I don't think it would have been possible to continue it this year, without their paving the way for us.

TOWARDS A GRASSROOTS FOREIGN POLICY

March is the month for KRAB's foreign policy series to look at what we call "global problems." Despite the vast power the United States has in international affairs, power which we've been studying in the series, there are some international issues extant which resist a unilateral U.S. approach, but which as well remain outside of the multilateral framework we discussed last month. How these problems are solved--if they are solved at all--will be the work of all the world's nations.

As usual, the series is centered around Tuesday night public forums, to which the public is invited. These Tuesday forums are tape recorded and broadcast over KRAB each Thursday night at 9:30 pm and again each Friday afternoon at 3:00 pm. Each Monday night at 7:30 pm, immediately after the International News, we present a half-hour introductory program for the week's topic--usually an interview with a State Department Officer--to prepare for the Tuesday public forum.

Here's the schedule for the Tuesday forums in March:

Mar. 7 FOOD AND POPULATION: CAN WE BALANCE ONE WITH THE OTHER?

Speakers: Dee Boersma, Univ. of Wash. Environmental Studies; Fr. Don Foran, Seattle Univ. Dept. of English; Prof. Morris Morris, Univ. of Wash. Dept. of Economics.

Mar. 14 ARMS SALES: A JUSTIFIED INSTRUMENT OF FOREIGN POLICY?

Speakers: Profs. Bruce Cumings and Donald Hellmann, Univ. of Wash. ICFAS; Dr. George Weigel, World Without War Council.

Mar. 21 THE ENERGY QUESTION: A CRISIS FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT?

Speakers: Randy Hardy, U.S. Dept. of Energy; Jim Bloomquist, Sierra Club; Prof. Tagi Sagafi-Nejad, Univ. of Wash. Business School; Prof. Gene Woodruff, Univ. of Wash. Nuclear Engineering Dept.

Mar. 28 THE RISE OF MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS: WHAT ROLE IN THE INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM?

Speakers: Lou Vargha, Weyerhaeuser Corp.; Lawrence Kenney, AFL-CIO; Profs. Richard Moxon and Anthony Tinker, Univ. of Wash. Business School.

These Tuesday forums will take place at the University Unitarian Church, 6556 35th NE, at 8:00 each date listed above. There is no admission charge, and there is plenty of time at these forums for questions and comments from the audience, so please come take part in these discussions with us.

3:00 ROYER AND HILDT ON SEATTLE ENERGY FUTURE

On Feb. 11, Mayor Charles Royer and Councilmember Michael Hildt spoke at the NW Electrical Energy Conservation Project. Royer spoke of the unique role of public power in assuring that conservation plays a major role in our future energy plans. Hildt reviewed the significant points of the Energy 1990 decision and commented on the progress of its implementation. These talks are unusual in that these two city officials are calling for conservation and solar power as the direction Seattle should go in in the future. Introduction by Steve Hodes.
